

Overview

Southpac aims to provide the most comprehensive Aviation SMS training program in the region, as such our SMS offering provides a number of options ranging from a basic introduction to aviation SMS through to this comprehensive 5-day Aviation SMS Course. This course aims to not only provide the vital underpinning knowledge required to understand more advanced SMS concepts but crucially to develop the practical skills required to maintain and lead the system on a day to day basis.

This course is a complete SMS package. It includes essential safety fundamentals concepts required for SMS, where SMS has evolved from, why it is required and what each component and element mean. It also discusses ICAO input and National State Safety Program requirements. There is information on the critical need for safety culture and the Human Factors required to effect this. The course will also include how to implement SMS and what is required to make it compliant. There is a combination of theory, case studies and practical exercises to fully optimise the learning experience.
